ANXIOUS TO PRACTICE LAW In the Senate, Mr. Heaton, addressing the Chair, said: "I destre to present this very flattering letter to myself, and the accompanying petition, which I desire to have read, in order that it may be fully understood." Clerk Sheets then read the letter, which was from the lady of Danville who wishes to practice law in the courts of this State.

The following is the letter: DANVILLE, VA., January, 1890.

Honored Sir, -- Pardon me if I presume too much on your good nature in making the following request: Will you kindly read or have read before the committee the enclosed address, which I have made into a kind of ness.

I trust when the question comes up that you will use your influence in its favor. With respect, I am, yours, very truly.
ANNE SMITH.

An Address TO THAT MONORABE BODY, THE VIRGINIA LEGISLATURE.

Sirs, 'tis with thaid steps I come
To beg your kind attention,
While speaking on a few small points
I much desire to mention.
E'en Sheba's queen felt not more awed
By Solomon's famed glory
Than I, impressed by wisdom great,
As thus I stand before ye.

For, I had only sought to gain.
Both for myself and others,
The privilege to practice law
if minded, with our brothers;
And. as I paused, such echoes came
As these, back to my hearing.
To which I make a brief reply
As to a close I'm nearing.

"There are too many lawyers, now!"
Well, then, who will prohiblt
More of that ranting, numerous sort
Who save mea from the gibbet,
And, if the field is over gleaned,
To not appear tohuman,
Why not debar in future time
All men as well as women?

Or, since as Daniel Webster said:
"There's still room at the top," sirs,
Let woman find that vacant room
And no man bid her stop, sirs.
And as for woman's proper sphere,
No man, as I opine it,
Has right to choose it for her, or
Should seek ee'n to define it.

Last, let me beg, most honored sirs,
That you receive conviction;
Think how unjust "ils to impose
On woman this restriction!
Remove it, pray, 'ils in your pow'r,
Let God, with gifts of nature,
lectide what sphere she'il occupy,
And not the Legislature.

And not the Legislature.

Mr. Berry thought it was in order that the Senator from Loudoun should explain the petition, as he did not understand it.

Mr. Heaton was surprised that any one should not understand the papers, which were very plain. This lady, who was knocking at the doors of the General Assembly for the right to practice law, desired to present this appeal, which he considered a very forcible one. It was in order that the matter should be referred to the Committee for Courts of Justice, which is composed largely of members of his, the bachelors', club, and the letter was addressed to him, he supposed, because of the influ-

Death of Mr. Robert Pearman.

Mr. Robert Pearman died Sunday night at his late residence on south Belvidere street, at 7:35 o'clock, from the wounds he received at the fire on Belle Isle last Friday night. As indicated in Time Times Saturday morning, it was not thought possible that he could recover, as the skuil had been crushed and the brain exposed. Still there was all along the lingering hope that he would recover. Mr. Pearman had lived on Oregon Hill and had worked on Belle Isle the greater part of his life. He once served on the police force. He was a well-known, popular man, and leaves a family. the bill certain amendments are acceptable to the Committee on General Laws by which the measure was considered, asked that it be recommitted.

Mr. Rubert Pearman died Sunday night at his late residence on south Belvidere street, at 7:35 o'clock, from the wounds he received at the fire on Belle Isle last Friday and James, who are charged with breaking in the neasure, opposed the motion to recommit, but it was finally carried.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The chair laid before the Senate a commonication from the Board of Education, submitting the report of the building commonities of the Virginia Normal and Collegiate Institute, showing how the money appropriated for building purposes has been expended. Referred to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. Heaton offered the following, which was adopted: Resolved, That the Superintondent of Public Instruction inform the Senate whother the Acts of Assembly approved January 12th, 1888, requiring educations to make annual report of the Board of Education, and whether embodied in the annual report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and whether embodied in the annual report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and if not to furnish any years. He was a good man and a quiet citizen.

Mr. Robert Pearman died Sunday night at his late residence on south Belvidere street, at 7:35 o'clock, from the wounds here evieved at the fire on Belle Isle Last Fri. THE PAY OF CLERGYMEN.

A CLAIM THAT THEIR SALARIES ARE COMPARATIVELY SMALL

Suns Received by Several Noted Men

No man who adopts a ministerial career can be justly charged with merce-nary motives, for in no other profession monetary reward so sm all. There are, to be sure, a few instances of preachers who are paid large salaries for their services, but the rank and file of the clergy receive hardly enough to maintain themselves respectably. The average salary paid to ministers in Protestant churches is less than $1,000 per annum. Even in the large metropolitan parishes, where men of marked ability officiate, the income awarded them is altogether incommensurate with their talents. Prominent lawyers like Joseph H. Choate, Robert G. Ingersoll and Benjamin F. Butler make all the way from $75,000 to $125,000 each year. physicians, Dr. Loomis earns from $50,-000 to $60,000, Dr. Polk from $40,000 to $50,000, Dr. Sayre about $50,000, and a dozen more might be named who earn over $25,000 annually. Compared to the salaries paid the managers of large financial institutions, the reward of the greatest preachers in the land seems paltry. The president of the Mutual Life Insurance company receives $50,000; Mr. De-pew, as president of the New York Cen-tral railroad, gets $50,000, and there are a considerable number of wealthy corpo rations that pay their chief officials from $25,000 to $50,000 for a year's services. a potent factor in its distribution. It is essential, therefore, that they should each combine first class business qualifications with learning and eloquence; yet the average salary they receive per annum is only a trifle over $11,000. When it is considered that they must keep up a style of living in accordance with the dignity of the pulpits they occupy, besides answering substantially innumerable private calls on their charity, it is not to be supposed that they can lay by very much money against the time when old age will deprive them of their usefulness. Nothing has been said so far as to th personal value of a clergyman to the parish under his charge. Experience has proved that the income of a pastorate depends mainly upon the qualities displayed by the pastor; so that in nearly every instance he may be said to earn personally the revenue of his church.— John P. Who's to Blame?

A law suit interesting to the members of the medical profession, as well as to apothecaries, is before the courts in Montreal. A French Canadian practitioner, wishing to prescribe quinine for a child, through absent mindedness wrote upon his prescription bisulphate of morphine instead of bisulphate of quinine. The paper was taken to an apothecary, whose assistant, perceiving an error at once, attempted a substitu tion, and made up the powders with sul-phate of morphine. The result was fa-tal. And now a curiously complicated question has to be settled by the judges. The father of the child has sued the doc tor because it was through his absent mindedness that the child lost its life The doctor has sued the apothecary for all the damages to which the father's suit may put him. He pleads that he ordered bisulphate of morphine, and that if such a substance existed and if the apothecary had sent it to the child he would be responsible, but he never or-dered sulphate of morphine, and it was the sulphate of morphine that killed the THREE MEN PERISHED. Burning of an Elevator and a British Steamship at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, January 13.—Elevator No. 3, on the north side of the Patapsco river, belonging to the Baltimore Elevator Company, and used by the Northern Central Railroad Company, was burned to-night with all its contents. The total loss is between $700,000 and $800,000. The British steamship sacroboseo, which was lying alongside, was also totally destroyed, involving a loss of $150,000. Three of the steamer's employes, the chief engineer, whose name is said to be Roby, and two seamen, whose names have not been learned, were either burned to death or drowned.

the city, and that they assume as much responsibility as that devolving upon the heads of great moneyed institutions. This will be apparent when we regard the churches under their direction from a purely financial standpoint. Trinity Church corporation owns millions upon millions in real estate. Its annual income is nearly $500,000. The bulk of this vast sum is paid out in church work each year, and Dr. Morgan Dix, the rector, presides over its distribution. Dr. Hall's church has a plant—if this term may be allowed—valued at $2,000.

111 In the complete of this is spent in missionary work. In 1889 the congregational expenses, including the pastor's salary, the music, and all incidental items, footed up $35,681. The balance of over $200,000 was applied to domestic and foreign missions, the relief fund of the Presbyterian church, and to miscellaneous charities. In view of this remarkable showing it cannot be doubted that Dr. Hall earns his salary.
